
A TIME OF GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY..... Thursday night, September 9th, was "Appomattox Night" at Virginia Baptist Hospital when a group of county citizens met at the hospital in the new Jamerson Cafeteria, built and donated by J. E. Jamerson & Sons of Appomattox, for dinner followed by a tour of the facilities.

Virginia Baptist Hospital, as well as other facilities of this type, is in desperate need of additional patient space and the project "A Time Of Golden Opportunity" is being planned to raise funds for additinal patient-care space at the Baptist Hospital in Lynchburg. Residents of our county look to Virginia Baptist Hospital, and to other hospitals in the area, when they are in need of surgery or of hospitalization for other reasons and we are sure that Appomattox County residents will want to participate in the project in order to provide more rooms for patients.

With over 2,000 patients being turned away from Virginia Baptist Hospital annually, there definitely is a need for additional space. Faced with the fact that it costs approximately $45,000 for construction of a typical acute-care room, against a construction cost of $15,000 to $20,000 for the motel-type room that would be used in a skilled nursing unit, one can readily see that it could accomplish a greater degree of efficiency in the use of facilities.

The solution, according to the Virginia Baptist Hospital, is to construct a new 90 bed Multi-purpose Short Term facility to alleviate this acute problem. The proposed facility will provide three levels of ambulatory care. A 24 bed psychiatric unit, a 38 bed skilled care nursing unit and a 28 self-care unit.

At a later date other citizens from our county will be invited to Virginia Baptist Hospital so that they may also see the vital need.

Personal contacts with people in Appomattox County are being made by Ben Marshall and by Judge George F. Abbitt, Jr., along with members of a committe assisting them seeking donations or pledges for the new facility at Virginia Baptist Hospital.

FIRE IN THE NIGHT

If you awoke at night and found your home ablaze, would your escape be quick and orderly, or would you become a victim of bewilderment and panic? Lack of proper planning and knowing what to do have been found to be the greatest causes of death and injury from fires which break out at night.

• • •

Hundreds of persons, preponderantly women and children, lose their lives in fires each year because of lack of proper planning. Many could have been saved had provisions been made for a second means of escape.

Always plan your living quarters so that there is more than one readily useable exit from each occupied room. For upper story windows, a rope ladder should be stored in a handy location near the window. Always plan to close bedroom doors upon retiring. It will block flames long enough to allow room occupants to escape.
